Annex B: Amendments to the ATP Guidance

We have implemented a one-word amendment to paragraph A8.1 of the ATP Guidance, which is shown below.

ATP Guidance

A8 Redress

A8.1 When assistance has been booked but has not been provided as confirmed by the operator, due to a failure of the assistance service, the operator must provide appropriate redress to a passenger that has submitted a claim. The form and, where appropriate, value of this redress may must be determined on a case-by-case basis to allow operators to consider the circumstances of the case. The operator must explain to the passenger in its response why the assistance was not provided, and what steps have been taken to ensure the failure does not reoccur. Operators must set out an overview of the claim process, which must be simple, straightforward and clear, and commit to promoting this to passengers, including on their website, via social media and in their passenger leaflet.

A8.2 A claim for redress about a specific assistance failure must be owned by the operator of the train the passenger was travelling on, or due to travel on, when the failure took place.

A8.3 A passenger must not have to submit a claim for redress to more than one operator. In cases of multiple assistance failure with a number of operators during a single multi-leg journey, the receiving operator must coordinate a single response on behalf of all of the operators involved. Sometimes this may not be sensible if the bulk of the assistance which was booked failed to be provided by another operator on whose train the passenger was travelling, or due to travel, when the failure took place. In this instance, it may be in the best interest of the claimant to receive a response directly from the operator primarily responsible. In this case the receiving operator may make arrangements to have the claim passed to the more appropriate operator. The operator must inform the claimant and obtain their consent when their claim is transferred to another operator.

A8.4 Nothing in this section is intended to diminish or remove the obligations that operators have to passengers under relevant legislation, including the Consumer Rights Act 2015, the Rail Passengers Rights and Obligations Regulations or the Equality Act 2010 (via the Equality Advice and Support Service).
